

Invocation 2025

In 1940, during the war, the Tibetan Master D.K. gave the following invocation to theosophists who were within his reach, and through them to the world:

May the Great Liberators come forth.

May they come to the aid of the sons of men.

May the great rider emerge from the hidden place and save the world.

O come to us, O mighty one.

May the souls of men awaken to the light and stand firm with united will.

May the FIAT of the Lord be done:

The time of suffering is over!

O come to us, O Mighty One.

May light and love, power and death realise the plan of the One who is coming.

The will to save is there.

The love to accomplish the work is everywhere.

And those who know are ready to help effectively.

O come to us, O Mighty One, and unite these three.

Erect a strong, protective wall.

The reign of evil must now come to an end. – 1940

The reign of evil has not come to an end. We have pointed out in other texts that the door to evil has not been closed.

The earthly planet is currently full of wars and destruction of nature, which are depriving humanity of its physical basis of life, and has been afflicted by a global threat as a result of the failure to apply the knowledge gained from the past.

Humanity has partially recognised the lessons of the past, but has not significantly changed its actions.

An invocative appeal for the planetary situation must be far-reaching and directed to the higher and highest spheres.

Invocation 2025

May the great spirit beings of the will to good allow their creative light to flow through Shambala into the earthly universe, so that it may take effect in the deeds of the advanced members of humanity.

May the will to good fill and enlighten the souls of humanity, so that their actions may oppose the reawakened darkness!

May the truth of the transmigration of souls find its place in the minds of humanity and the tone of love for humanity resound in their souls.

May cleansing winds force open the way to the future!

End this mantra with OM or Amen three times.

Application

Begin the first three months by reading the invocation once a day.

Then say it silently without any visualisation.

If the energy associated with it is too strong for you, return to reading for a while.
